Summary

Since the Conflict of Interest Code of the Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) was last amended (April 2010), the AOC has determined that several additional classifications should be added to the AOC's code to bring it up to date. Staff has also identified the types of financial interests that employees in these classifications should be required to disclose. Furthermore, staff proposes amending the policy language in the code regarding the disclosure required of employees in the Special Consultant classification. In accordance with Government Code sections 87303 and 87306, the Judicial Council must review proposed amendments to the code and approve the code as amended or direct that it be further revised and resubmitted for approval.

Discussion

The Political Reform Act of 1974 (Gov. Code, § 81000 et seq.) requires public agencies to adopt conflict of interest codes. (Gov. Code, § 87300.) In 1984, the Legislature amended the Political Reform Act to require agencies and employees of the judicial branch to comply with the act. (Stats. 1984, ch. 727, amending Gov. Code, §§ 82011, 82041, 82048, 82049, and 87200, and adding § 87311.5.) Every conflict of interest code, including amended codes, must be submitted to and approved by a "code reviewing body." (Gov. Code, §§ 87303, 87306.) The Judicial Council is the code reviewing body for "any state agency within the judicial branch of government" where no other code reviewing body has been specified (Gov. Code, § 82011(h)), which includes the AOC. In 1985, the Judicial Council first approved a conflict of interest code for AOC employees. An agency's conflict of interest code must be amended when new positions and duties are created and when positions are eliminated. (Gov. Code, § 87306.) Since 1985, the Judicial Council periodically has amended the AOC Conflict of Interest Code, most recently in April 2010.

A conflict of interest code is a document that states the rules and procedures by which designated officers and employees of a public agency must disclose certain personal financial interests. The financial interests required to be disclosed are those that foreseeably could be materially affected by decisions that these officers or employees are authorized to make or influence. In brief, Government Code section 87302 specifies that a conflict of interest code must:

- Designate the classifications of officers or employees who make or influence financial decisions (“designated employees”);
- Identify the categories of interests that foreseeably may be affected by such decisions (“disclosure categories”);
- Require officers and employees to file periodic reports of their financial interests (“disclosure statements”); and
- Require officers and employees to disqualify themselves from decisions affecting matters in which they have a financial interest.

A conflict of interest code must designate the officers and employees who make, or participate in the making of, government decisions that foreseeably can have a material effect on their personal financial interests. (Gov. Code, § 87302(a).) The disclosure categories for each job classification must correspond to those interests that employees foreseeably can affect. (Gov. Code, § 87302(c).) Thus, disclosure categories reflect the powers and responsibilities assigned to employees within each job classification.

The current AOC Conflict of Interest Code contains 19 disclosure categories. The broadest, Category 1, provides for disclosure of “[a]ll investments, sources of income, interests in real property, and positions in business entities.” Those who fall within this category include the Administrative Director of the Courts, the Chief Deputy Director, the regional administrative directors, the division directors, and the assistant division directors.<sup>1</sup> Other employees must disclose a narrower range of financial interests that could be affected as a result of their specific job duties. For example, certain employees in the Administrative Services Unit must disclose “[i]nvestments, sources of income, and business positions in business entities that are providers of printing, graphics hardware and software, duplicating, and publishing services, equipment, and supplies” (Category 3).

The proposed changes to the AOC Conflict of Interest Code are underlined in the attachment below.

Attachment: Proposed Amended Conflict of Interest Code for the Administrative Office of the Courts

CONFLICT OF INTEREST CODE FOR THE ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE COURTS
(Revised effective ~~April 23, 2010~~ October 29, 2010)

The Political Reform Act (Gov. Code, § 81000 et seq.) requires state and local government agencies to adopt and promulgate conflict of interest codes. The Fair Political Practices Commission has adopted a regulation (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 2, § 18730) that contains the terms of a standard conflict of interest code, which can be incorporated by reference into an agency's code. After public notice and hearing, the code may be amended by the Fair Political Practices Commission to conform to amendments in the Political Reform Act. Therefore, the terms of California Code of Regulations, title 2, section 18730, and any amendments to it duly adopted by the Fair Political Practices Commission are hereby incorporated by reference. This regulation and the attached appendices designating officials and employees and establishing disclosure categories shall constitute the Conflict of Interest Code of the Administrative Office of the Courts.

Designated employees shall file statements of economic interests with the secretary of the Judicial Council (Administrative Director of the Courts) on forms prescribed by the Fair Political Practices Commission.
